BOOM EXPECTED
AT HORNSILVER
AT EARLY DATE

Camp Is Experiencing Healthy Growth and Many New Finds Are Reported.

Hornsilver is destined to enjoy a wonderful season of prosperity, according to H. B. King, secretary-treasurer of the Orlean Hornsilver Mining company, who was a visitor to Tonopah yesterday. "We are developing ore in three faces," remarked Mr. King, "and engineers estimate that there is now blocked and ready for extraction at least $500,000 in the bottom of the winze from the 700 level an ore vein having a width of 13 feet is showing, while in the southeast drift from the 700 level, a showing almost equally as good is in evidence. We are developing an orebody of much promise in the northwest drift, but the vein seems to run parallel with the Orlean. On the 500 level we have uncovered a large body of ore that is of a splendid commercial value, and with the advent of spring we hope to make a steady production."

While Mr. King was inclined to be reticent concerning future operations, he intimated that the building of a large and modern mill by the Orlean Hornsilver company could receive consideration at an early date. The financial end of the proposition will no doubt be taken care of within a short time, which will permit of construction work being inaugurated.

Hornsilver is attracting attention of investors and mining men from many sections throughout the west and numerous properties will shortly be receiving attention. The many mineral finds that have been made of late has had a tendency to stimulate matters in the new-old camp and a feeling of optimism prevails in all quarters.

ALIEN SLAVERY
HALTED BY ACT
OF COMMISSION

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 24.—Problems, ranging from the elimination of a system of virtual slavery among alien peoples to the regulation of the "blanket" of picturesque character of the lumber camps, are at present engaging the attention of the California state housing and immigration commission. Other problems concern the elimination of the platform bunk, where Asiatic field workers obtained their sleep on a raised board contrivance along which they were packed like sardines in a can, and the protection of the ignorant immigrant from bogus tax collectors.

Regarding the slavery feature the searching finger of the commission recently pointed accusingly at the of a former president of the republic of San Salvador, who, according to its findings, had brought one of her countrymen to San Francisco to work for her on the promise of a "good salary." The servant complained that she had to cook for eight persons three times a day, was never paid wages and "was kept like a slave." She feared to go back to San Salvador, believing the power of the ex-president's wife to be omnipotent and carrying potentialities that would make life unbearable for her in her native land.

The commission adjusted the matter and the servant is now happily employed in a position paying her $14.50 a week.

TRYING TO AVERT STRIKE.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 24.—There is no likelihood of suspension of operations in both the bituminous and anthracite coal fields in April, if it can be prevented, it was said at the White House.

Prognosticator Again
Slipped Off the Cog

A little freakish weather again paid a visit to Tonopah last night. Regardless of the prediction made by "Long-Ear," the moonshine sheet's prognosticator, that we were to have four days of nice clear weather, the clouds made their appearance quite suddenly last night at 8 o'clock and the community was treated to a drenching rain that continued until 12 o'clock. A high wind prevailed about 10 o'clock for five minutes, causing the lights to go out for a short time.

STRANGE FEUD
ABRUPTLY ENDS
DEATH OF MAN

(By Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 24.—A strange feud with the government that had lasted many years was ended here recently by the death of Peter Blitzer, the chief factor in this unique drama of life. Blitzer was arrested on an average of over 1500 days of his life of 71 years. He openly violated the law to avenge a fancied wrong by the United States government almost half a century ago, and not for the profit there was in it, according to his friends. It is said that, on the contrary, Blitzer persisted in his illegal acts although they were slowly depleting his small fortune, and that while arrested nearly 175 times for violating the prohibition law, he was always a total abstemious.

When a young contractor just starting out in life, he was security for another contractor on a piece of government work in the Louisville harbor. A flood on the Ohio river swept away the work, so the story goes, and Blitzer was held to his bond. This was said to have ruined him financially. Legal battles over the case for many years ended only in disappointment for Peter and he said never to have become reconciled to the justice of the government's action.

Blitzer's first effort to retaliate came when he attempted to evade the tax on oleomargarine. For this offense he served a year in prison. When national prohibition came into being, Blitzer repeatedly violated the law, it is alleged. He was arrested more than 175 times, frequently convicted, but generally escaping with a fine. He, however, served several short prison sentences, but always in cells which he had fitted with modern conveniences.

His meals were brought into prison to him.

Despite the many conflicts he had with the police, Blitzer is said to have never become angered at them. The last time his property was raided, several months ago, and a large stock of whiskey seized, Peter is quoted as having called "come back again, boys," as the officers departed.

Following his litigation with the government, he is said to have preferred cash transactions always and seldom issued a check, although his business was voluminous at times.

Do not forget to attend the Eagles dance Saturday night. The usual 6-piece orchestra will furnish the music. M24-21

INDICTMENT FOUND
AGAINST ROMANOVICH

An indictment has been returned by the grand jury against Edward Romanovich charging him with assault with intent to kill Bob Dragovich. The two men engaged in an altercation two weeks ago at a saloon on Main street, and Romanovich is charged with having slashed Dragovich with a knife across both arms. The defendant has since been at liberty under a $500 cash bond.

The grand jury failed to return an indictment against John Murray, but on the other hand returned a "no true bill" Murray was being investigated, regarding ownership of two stills, one having a capacity of 200 gallons and the other 40 gallons, which were found in a house below the depot. AMUSEMENTS

"THE FOX"—BIG
OUTDOOR PICTURE

At the Butler today will be seen one of the biggest outdoor pictures ever screened—a super-western produced with more care, more money, more talent—more everything—than most producers put into half a dozen so-called super-features. Big in star, big in story and bigger in production values than anything that has graced the screen in some time. The story is one that Harry Carey has wanted to produce for several years. It carries a dramatic punch and a quivering thrill of suspense in every one of its surprising twists, and sweeps everything before it in its swift rush of plot—its blow upon blow of the most absorbing situations ever devised. Step by step the story builds—now tense, now humanly humorous, now thrilling, now breathless, now tender—and all pyramiding up to a climax that will have any audience in the world breathless—and satisfied.

Added to the program today will be Screen Snapshots of famous movie stars.

Tomorrow, Bert Lytell, in "The Right That Failed," and a 2-reel comedy, "Let Me Explain."
